Firm Culture

Mission and Value Oriented

- We as a firm have established a working mission statement and list of values, which we all strive to live out and encompass everyday in our inter-staff and staff-client relations. (See mission statement and list of values attached.)

Training and learning culture

- We believe that on-going training to develop our staff, professional and non-professional alike, is one of the keys to fulfilling our firm's commitment to excellence. Our goal is not limited to providing professional training pertaining to our trade, but also to encourage our staff to teach each other what they know best, and to in turn, be able to learn from one another.

Paperless environment

- Though a truly "paperless" office is virtually impossible, we have taken large steps to creating an office where the amount of paper flow is reduced considerably. This not only enables us to be more efficient with our time as well as our clients', but it also naturally helps us to reduce our paper consumption, resulting in cost savings and environmental waste reduction.
